

Scraphouse, San Francisco

Sidewalk Plaza, San Francisco

Day Labor Station, Los Angeles

Public Architecture

Public Architecture facilitates pro bono design services for health centers, libraries, schools, and social service agencies in low-income communities nationwide.

Teknion is a leading sponsor of Public Architecture and the 1% program.

Join Teknion as we host John Peterson, founder of Public Architecture,

a national nonprofit based in San Francisco. Hear first-hand how pro bono design is making a difference to people most in need—and how you too can join the pro bono movement and impact your local community.

The 1% program of Public Architecture leverages over $27 million in pro bono services annually from over 850 architecture and design firms nationwide to improve health centers, libraries, schools, and other public amenities in low-income communities.

Panelists:

John Bencich, AIA, LEED AP
Principal Architect at Square Feet Studios

Roy Abernathy, AIA,
Managing Partner with Jova/Daniels/Busby

Willard Lariscy, AIA, LEED AP
Managing Partner, Perkins & Will

date: Wednesday, November 10th

agenda: 6:00–6:45 Wine and hors d'oeuvres

6:45–7:45 Presentation by John Peterson and featured local panelists

7:45–8:30 Dessert and coffee with the presenters

location: Park Tavern & Piedmont Room
500 Tenth Street NE, Atlanta, GA 30309